

Please change your recently passed rules that allow large media conglomerates to swallow up the few remaining independent media outlets. Replace this rule with one that increases the diversity of media ownership, especially local ownership. Only by learning of differing viewpoints can our democracy stay strong.